A sub-dataverse is a dataverse created and nested under the NTU root Dataverse. A sub-dataverse can be created for individual researchers, departments and projects. Each dataset contains descriptive metadata and data files which may include documentation such as readme files, codebooks etc, that facilitate data reuse. As an organising method, sub-dataverses may also contain other sub-dataverses.